CIB World Building Congress 2025

WORKSHOP TOPIC

Changes All The Time:

Functions and floor plans change all the time in large buildings, in every country, because societies are dynamic, and performance standards and user requirements evolve.

Continual Adaptation:

Yet we need buildings to last for 100+ years. In their decisions and practices, it is incumbent on clients, design service professionals, public officials and builders to plan for the inevitability of continual adaptation.

Designing for Change:

Without designing our building stock for change, our collective efforts of meeting sustainability goals are severely undermined.

WORKSHOP PLAN

This 3 1/2 hour hands-on workshop will engage a group of 20 - 30 (+/-) participants from many design disciplines and countries in design exercises led by Open Building experts.

We will explore and discuss basic methods needed to assure that housing, educational and healthcare facilities, both new and existing, are designed for continual change.
